VOL. I.

PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY: FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1882.

NO. 58.

WATERMELONS are now cheap and quite high.

Very few our citizens have attended the exposition yet.

Joe BLACKBURN will speak in Cynthia next Monday.

"The voice of the corn cutter is heard in the land." —[Kentuckian next week.]

The extra train to Mayville met with a fair patronage Wednesday morning.

Box BRYANT, cold, drowned in Licking at Boston Station, while driving logs.

POLK FORSYTH has challenged Ben PATON for "resting" race, for $10 a side.

The Lexington Newsboys beat the College Nine 17 to 16 in a game of base ball.

GEO. WHITNEY, of North Middletown, bought 44 horse mules at from $100 to $150.

The Independent at Lexington this year was $1,500 in excess of last year.

A New York detective has run a safe-blower out of Lexington, saith the Transcript.

The Governor says he will not order a special term of the Boyd county court, with which to try Neal and Craft.

The State College at Lexington, has more than 250 students in attendance. The military battalion numbers about 200.

The Lexington Transcript credits the Bourbon "Sun" with lots of news here lately. No such paper published in Bourbon.

It is said 90,000,000 of postage stamps are annually sold in this country, and all of them have to be licked before they will do their duty.

All Burnett, well-known all over this country as an old time humorist, is now addressing meetings in Ohio, favoring a prohibition law.

Four bicycle clowns were to paint their hides yellow and walk down the streets, Lexington papers would say "bully boys—why might nice!!!"

Baldy & Ochs have been awarded the contract of fencing in Bourbon's portion of the K. C. extension—seventeen miles of wire fence with cedar and chestnut posts to the west the $3 miles. Price not known.

FRANK JAMES and four of his gang were reported at Big Bone Springs on their way to Cincinnati to "get married" to the Ford boys, the other day, but learning that the Ford boys had left vanished from the Springs.

Miss Katie Myall, of Bourbon, Mrs. "Lol" Wangh, of Carlisle, Miss Jewell, of Jessamine, and Miss Madge Whitney, of Mt. Sterling, were about all of the ladies from a distance we recognized at the fair on Wednesday.

"UNCLE" DICK HINTON, father of ex-Mayor Hinton, died suddenly Wednesday about 1 o'clock, in his 86th year. Funeral services this morning at the Christian Church at 10 o'clock, and burial by the Odd Fellows.

The Rev. Geo. O. Barnes will commence a revival in McAlpin Hall, Cincinnati, today. A large number of Parisians have signified their intention of complimenting their old friend with their attendance during his stay. The News and several others are biled to hear him Sunday.

A New Yorker met with a sad loss while returning from a summer resort the other day. Some means her diary, containing the names of all the gentlemen she was engaged to, dropped out of the car window, and now she can't tell which of her male friends have a right to kiss her.

Dr. JNO. RAY, one of our most prominent and esteemed physicians died of heart-disease. Tuesday afternoon while sitting in his chair. He had been ill for the last two months, during which time he took a trip to Missouri, but returned home and took a relapse from which he never rallied. His funeral services were conducted by the Rev. E. H. Pearce, at the Methodist church on Thursday.

We understand that the stock-holders of the North Middleton college have employed Prof. Zollars to run the school until next June, for $1,000. Men who claim to know, claim that the liabilities of the institution will reach $28,000, but W. H. Kerr, the assignee, says not. Among the creditors are: North Middleton Deposit Bank, $4,329; T. J. Evans, $3,000; T. J. Judy, $2,600; Jim Trimble, $600; and John T. Marion, of Paris, a sum not exceeding $1,000. The assets are the college building and grounds, furniture, and $15,000 worth of school accounts.

THE MAYSVILLE FAIR.

Although fine grounds, fine races and fine weather were inducements held out at Mayville, the association played to empty benches on Tuesday and Wednesday. We arrived on the grounds at 11:30 Wednesday and made a summary of those present, which amounted to about fifty persons, not all consisting of horse-owners, groomsman and hucksters. This was a positive proof that no one wanted to look at bulls and cows. In the afternoon from 700 to 1,000 only came to witness the finest trotting race of the week. Thus it is clearly proven that racing is not the all-drawing power. On Thursday, a gloomy, dismal day, when only ordinary attractions were offered, the vast assemblage of thousands and thousands flocked in by rail, boat, vehicle and on foot on a top seat, we viewed the racing and the men tried to divine the secret of the drawing success. We asked fifty persons why they came on Thursday. All said "because it was Thursday." It was quite evident that they all came for the same same purpose—to see the crowd, and have a social reunion. Therefore, reducing this thing of a fair down to a decimal and thoroughly analyzing it, it is nothing but a social reunion, and about two days' festival are about as much as the people can stand. After that, they are not sociable and won't use worth a cent.

We therefore, suggest to the clever officers of the Maysville association, to reunite with the officers Bourbon, Harrison and Sharpesburg, who all experienced the same signal failure on the first two days, and all agree to a two-days' fair or social reunion—have all of the big trouble to come and go like a cyclone. We think it would be profitable and agreeable all around.

FAIR NOTES.

The amphitheater is a more substantial structure than that of Lexington.

"Jossies" are called "Jimmies" by the Mayville gents, and were considerably wiles.

Miles McKee was there with a small badge on his lapel, and a large one in his pocket.

Those pretty pressed flannel palliances indicated the strictly up-with-the-style ladies, and were the great envy of the occasion.

Col. ^{1/2}Stoddard Johnson, Gen'l. Abe Buford, Capt. Ralph Sheldon and several others from Frankfort, we bedecked with lawn colored ribbon, the insignia of distinguishedness.

The officers of the association cannot be beaten in the State for cleverness. We'll match John Watson, Frank Owens and Dexter Kehoe with those of any other association for hospitalities.

Col. W. B. Baldwin regretted $100 worth of enjoyment by being called to New York by telegram, to meet a Southern cotton prince on important business forecasting shadows of coming events in the mid-trotting season.

THE TROTTING RACES.

Tuesday Wickam in three straight heats in the class that never trotted better than three minutes. Time, 2:37 2/3, and 2:31.

In Wednesday's race, for horses that have never trotted in better than 2:30, Jewett and London did not start. Four heats stood: Lumps 1, Post Boy 2, Deck Wright 3, Leontine 4, Fannie Robinson 5. Second heat: Deck Wright 1, Post Boy 2, Leontine 3, Fannie Robinson 4. Lumps 5. Third heat: Deck Wright 1, Post Boy 1, Deck Wright 2, F. Robinson 3. Leontine 4. Fifth heat was given to Deck Wright, although it is said that Post Boy came under the string a length ahead of Wright. Time, 2:21, 2:25, 2:22, 2:24, W. 22.

The track was in fair condition Wednesday only. Rather heavy on the back-stretch.

No pools were allowed sold on the grounds or in the city. Consequently the boys grumbled and kicked high.

THE RULE RACE.

The slow rule race was the daintiest exhibition on Wednesday. There were two entries—a large bay and a black. Both were endowed with heads as large as barrels, and filled with general cussedness. When the riders changed and the word "go" was given, both made a break for the band stand after going about thirty yards. After many hard strokes with buggy whips and a world of thought cussing, they were strengthened on the track again, and was a nippy, jumpy race all round until the horse stretch was reached, where at the distance poll the foremost flew the track and round-and-round up at the stable closely followed by the other. After a small age of pounding and oral cussing again, they were brought out on the track again, and on arriving at the amphitheater, one tried to pass out through the wicket gate, and the other put his forefeet over the hand rail and was only partially backed, when the rider went to bed over the fence. At this critical juncture Frank rider with a few kicks, and told him to run and catch his mule, that the race wasn't over. By hard running and a good deal of "whooping" and "heading," the three caught the refractory religion breaker, and the rider mounting, whipped the hind six feet in advance of the black, which never did reach the line by at least three feet. The hero of the day took mule with him for $40, a bruised pair of shins, a badly shaken-up physical piece of mechanism, no religion worth speaking of, and a tale of woes and horrors to his proud and expectant family. In the sun hours of that day of trying events. The man that never got under the string, consoled his grief and banished his blistered hands with the second money, amounting to $15.

Sharp-pointed shoes for men going out of fashion. It will be so after awhile that we can tell an idiot by his foot.

Adams gave the first five-days' fair that Ever drew well. Since that time all five-days' exhibitions have been failures.

Honey at twenty-five cents per pound is a great deal higher than a mule's heels in the air, but it's a heap sweeter to the taste.

If a man wants to keep his name out of the paper for doing something mean, about the best way to do it is to behave himself.

The man whose pity is not aroused by the cry of a helpless child or woman in distress, has not the soul of a hard-hearted male.

Rhode Island has 250 persons to every square mile of her territory, and is more densely populated than any other State in the union.

It takes eight hundred full-blown roses to make a tablespoonful of perfume, while a shilling's worth of cooked onions will scent a neighborhood.

The oldest Methodist preacher in the United States died yesterday. He was 90 years old (aged 80) stood up and punshed his bearers with an hour's service one day last week.

We degrade life by our follies and vices, and then complain that the unhappiness which is only their accompaniment is inherent in the constitution of things.

It is the habitual thought that frames itself into our life. Our confident friends have not as much to do in shaping our lives as the thoughts which we harbor.

We stop the press to announce receipt of a postal from R. de Roode, stating that Pinxter by a local company, would be rendered at the Lexington Open House, Oct. 2nd.

A colored woman in Georgia dug up a jug of peach brandy the other day which was buried during the war. Her neighbors are talking about running her for congoress.

A happiness that is quite undisturbed becomes tiresome; we must have ups and downs; the difficulties which are mingled with love awaken passion and increase pleasure.

When you go to see the English beauty, so-called, Mrs. Langtry, who is visiting this country as a theatrical attraction, you will ask for tickets to see Mrs. Longree. That is the way she calls it.

The christian cloak for villainy will be cut about the same as those of last season. They will be gored in the back by bad husbands with butcher knives, and frittered around the skirts by bulldogs.

The triumph of a woman lies not in the admiration of her lover, but in the respect of her husband, and that only can be gained by a constant cultivation of those qualities which she knows most values.

Mrs. Wm. Bright, of Lexington, took the premium on a Japanese silk quilt at Mayville, over four of Miss Mary Tipton's and about six others. Miss Tipton won the premium at Lexington, and no doubt beat Mrs. Bright's entry, which was something brighter and flashier, but sublimely beautiful and richly unique in design.

A good man was once tempted by the devil to commit one of the three greatest sins against his God, or to get drunk. As the least of the three he chose to get drunk. Satan left him well pleased at his choice, for as far as while drunk he committed both the other sins.

A Milwaukee young woman is triple sighted, and can see three objects where there is but one. When her husband comes home drunk, he sees two mad wives and she sees three drunken husbands. They bring on the general engagement with but little skirmishing, and in all the wind-beating neither gets struck a lick, as the imaginary beings are always struck at and missed.
